Rachel LaMontagne Presents at Second Annual Medicare Secondary Payer Master Class

1.27.17

Rachel LaMontagne, a Class Action and Mass Litigation partner in the Miami office of Shutts & Bowen, recently presented at the Second Annual Medicare Secondary Payer Master Class, a conference provided by Healthcare Education Associates. The conference took place in Dallas from January 23-25.

During her presentation titled “Defining Conditional Payments for Primary Payers,” Rachel discussed defining what constitutes a “conditional payment” and when Medicare may make a conditional payment. Rachel also addressed primary payer and secondary payer’s responsibilities for claims under the MSP; how the recovery process differs between workers’ comp and liability; primary payer consequences for failing to reimburse Medicare; and common issues that complicate conditional payment disputes and appeals.
